A Lengthy Record of Crime and Lawlessness.

THE SHOOTING OF MRS RANDALL

Her Son-in-Law and Another Man Arrested for the Deed—A Baptist Minister Hanged in Alabama for the Murder of His Wife—A Fight in a Court Room—The Work of a Bold New Mexican Desperado—Jury Briber Sentenced.

LEBANON, Ind Feb 22—Samuel Belt and Oliver Lee have been arrested upon an affidavit made by Rachel the divorced wife of Samuel Belt, charging them with having attempted the assassination of Mrs. Randall while a prayer meeting was in progress last Monday night at her residence five miles south of this city Belt and Lee both protest their innocence asserting that they were out coon hunting on the night in question

Had Threatened to Kill the Family.

It is said by members of the family that Belt has made divers threats to kill the whole family before he went west which he intended to leave in a few days and that a few weeks ago Mr Randall who is his father in law was shot at by some person. Suspicion pointed strongly against young Belt but nothing was said about the affair at the time Belt has been [illegible] for some time from the woman who is his wife and his animosity was aroused from the fact [illegible] that his wife's parents were the cause of their separation

May Yet Be a Lynching

Mrs Randall lies in a most critical condition and in [illegible] she dies the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill will be changed to murder Belt is about 5 feet 6 inches in height, of light complexion blue eyes and [illegible] light mustache He is 40 years old He is somewhat tall [illegible] eyes and avoids looking any person in the face He says he is 22 years [illegible] is greatly excited and [illegible] Mrs Randall die Judge Lynch may [illegible] the fate of the two suspects

HE POISONED HIS WIFE

Execution at Ozark Ala of a White Baptist Minister

MONTGOMERY Ala Feb 22—Rev Henry Duncan a white minister of the Free Will Baptist denomination was hanged at Ozark Ala Friday The execution took place at noon and a great crowd was present [illegible] the condemned man conducted from the jail to the scaffold [illegible] crime was the murder of his wife by poison The preacher's unholy love for Miss Baldree impelled him to commit the dreadful deed Miss Baldree lived in the neighborhood and the day after the murder Duncan eloped with her The murderer was hunted down tried and found guilty

Admitted His Guilt

After his conviction he made a confession in which he admitted that he was guilty of his wife's death but charged Baldree and his daughter [illegible] with being accomplices These were arrested but on a preliminary examination they were discharged there being no evidence against them Duncan claimed that he did not fear death but admitted that the thought of the gallows horrified him He regretted to the last that Miss Baldree and her father did not perish with him on the scaffold

CAME TOGETHER IN COURT

A Lively Fight Between Two Prominent Politicians An Old Grudge

SPRINGFIELD Ills Feb [illegible]—There was a lively scene in [illegible] Sangamon county circuit court [illegible] Friday evening Some feeling had been created [illegible] the senators from [illegible] relative to the estate of the late Joseph W Arnold [illegible] Senator [illegible] Hamilton and State Senator W F Shutt who were interested on opposite sides of the case became involved in a dispute Shutt seized Hamilton and dragged him to his knees Hamilton regained his feet and a brisk bout at fisticuffs followed

Both Were Big Men

The crowd pressed in [illegible] the belligerents, however and they were soon separated Immediately Hamilton seized his cane and proposed to renew the battle but the court officers stopped the combat Shutt's vest was nearly torn off and Hamilton was scratched about the side of the face and neck Both men are large and stout and a fight to a finish would undoubtedly have been both interesting and sanguinary Both are prominent in Democratic politics and the trouble it is understood [illegible]

Reads Like a Yellow Back

ALBUQUERQUE N M Feb 22—San Pedro a mining camp near here is in a high state of excitement Two days ago John Elder paymaster at the Cerrillos coal mines was assaulted by Joe White and robbed of several hundred dollars The robber then went to San Pedro and threatened to shoot any person who dared to arrest him He stole Steve Arnold's best horse went to the house of a Mexican woman and made her cut off her hair put on men's clothes and get on the steed The couple then left the camp together Deputy Sheriff Meyers and a posse went in pursuit They sighted the desperado and his companion and ordered them to surrender but White commenced firing and the deputy sheriff received a fatal wound while two of his posse were killed The desperado then made his escape

A Lengthy Record of Crime and Lawlessness.

THE SHOOTING OF MRS RANDALL

Her Son-in-Law and Another Man Arrested for the Deed—A Baptist Minister Hanged in Alabama for the Murder of His Wife—A Fight in a Court Room—The Work of a Bold New Mexican Desperado—Jury Briber Sentenced

LEBANON, Ind Feb 22 —Samuel Belt and Oliver Lee have been arrested upon an affidavit made by Rachel the divorced wife of Samuel Belt charging them with having attempted the assassination of Mrs. Randall while a prayer meeting was in progress last Monday night at her residence five miles south of this city Belt and Lee both protest their innocence asserting that they were out coon hunting on the night in question

Had Threatened to Kill the Family.

It is said by members of the family that Belt has made divers threats to kill the whole family before he went west which he intended to do in a few days and that a few weeks ago Mr Randall who is his father in law was shot at by some person Suspicion pointed strongly against young Belt but nothing was said about the affair at the time Belt has been divorced for some time from the woman who caused his arrest and his animosity was aroused from the fact as he claimed that his wife's parents were the cause of their separation

May Yet Be a Lynching.

Mrs Randall is in a most critical condition and if she dies the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill will be changed to murder Belt is about 5 feet 6 inches in height of light complexion blue eyes and seems to be not particularly bright in intellect He is 20 years old Lee is somewhat taller has gray eyes and avoids looking any person in the face He says he is 22 years The neighborhood is greatly excited and should Mrs Randall die Judge Lynch may hold the fate of the two suspects

Execution at Ozark Ala of a White Baptist Minister

MONTGOMERY Ala Feb 22 —Rev Henry Duncan a white minister of the Free Will Baptist denomination was hanged at Ozark Ala Friday The execution took place at noon, and a great crowd was present to see the condemned man conducted from the jail to the scaffold Duncan's crime was the murder of his wife by poison The preacher's unholy love for Miss Baldree impelled him to commit the dreadful deed Miss Baldree lived in the neighborhood and the day after the murder Duncan eloped with her The murderer was hunted down tried and found guilty

Admitted His Guilt

After his conviction he made a confession in which he admitted that he was guilty of his wife's death but charged Baldree and his daughter Georgia with being accomplices These were arrested, but on preliminary examination they were discharged there being no evidence against them Duncan claimed that he did not fear death but admitted that the thought of the gallows shocked him He regretted to the last that Miss Baldree and her future [illegible] with him to the gallows

CAME TOGETHER IN COURT

A Lively Fight Between Two Prominent Politicians An Old Grudge

SPRINGFIELD Ill Feb 22 —There was a lively scene in the Sangamon county circuit court room when the court assembled for a session Friday evening Some feeling had been created by a [illegible] the senators fees in the suit relative to the estate of the late Joseph W[illegible] Ex State Senator L F Hamilton and State Senator W F Shutt who were interested on opposite sides of the case became involved in a heated dispute Shutt seized Hamilton and dragged him to his knees Hamilton regained his feet and a brisk bout at fisticuffs followed

Both Were Big Men

The crowd pressed in on the belligerents, however, and they were soon separated Immediately Hamilton seized his cane and proposed to renew the battle but the court officers stopped the combat Shutt's vest was nearly torn off and Hamilton was scratched about the side of the face and neck Both men are large and stout and a fight to a finish would undoubtedly have been both interesting and sanguinary Both are prominent in Democratic politics and the trouble it is understood arose from [illegible]

Reads Like a Yellow Back

ALBUQUERQUE N M Feb 22 San Pedro a mining camp near here is in a high state of excitement Two days ago John Elder paymaster at the Cerrillos coal mines was assaulted by Lee White and robbed of several hundred dollars The robber then went to San Pedro and threatened to shoot any person who dared to arrest him He stole Steve Arm[illegible]'s best horse went to the house of a Mexican woman and made her cut off her hair put on men's clothes and get on the steed The couple then left the camp together Deputy Sheriff Meyers and a posse were soon in pursuit They sighted the desperado and his companion and ordered them to surrender but White commenced firing and the deputy sheriff received a fatal wound while two of his posse were killed The desperado then made his escape

NAME THE MAN.

We note that the farmers of Iowa are still sending in petitions to the legislature, asking it to elect somebody in place of Allison to the U S Senate Gov Larrabee would be quite acceptable. Now it seems as if even the Iowa farmer ought to have sense enough to know that the polls is the only place to beat Allison It may be true that Larrabee would be a great improvement over the present caucus nominee, but it will take a long while to convince the party bosses of anything like that The esteem in which Quay and Carnegie hold the Iowa Senator is as boundless as their designs upon the future labor of the farmer It is necessary that Iowa should assist in replenishing the purse with which Carnegie pays for million dollar libraries, and Allison is the man in that state whose heart and soul and aspirations are in the same scheme Larrabee might be honest enough to make a few objections, he might not think enough of a possible presidential nomination to trade his convictions for it he might imagine that guarding the interests of his constituents amounted to a duty that could not be shaken off All these queer notions would surely stand in the way of delivering a vote to some of Quay's pet schemes

But Allison has been tried by the barons and they have found that he is to be depended on, They know what his speeches were a few years ago and they also know how ready he is now to vote the other way Such a plastic fellow is not to be picked up every day, and when Quay and Carnegie find one they call in Harrison's assistance and hold on to him What influence can the farmers imagine they have at this stage of the game? They were heard on election day and they will please keep quiet until the calendar recognizes them again It is true the Iowa farmers made a pretty vigorous speech. They assisted in turning part of the state over to the democrats That was the only way to beat the republican candidate for governor Some of them hoped to beat Allison and at the same time retain a republican senator from the state They thought that they would be given a voice in naming the particular republican who should be chosen They now know that their power to influence a selection closed with the polls on election day Thereafter the matter was entirely in the hands of the very few who make politics a profession It is too late for them to talk now They did not want Allison, but it was impossible for them to beat him and at the same time hold on to the republican party The ordinary farmer talks on election day or not atall

The people of Illinois have something to learn from the Iowa case There is a very general desire that the right man shall represent this state in the U S Senate as soon as the time expires in which Farwell is allowed to make a monkey of himself The people of this state want to know who that man is They don't want Farwell neither will they have any other man whose only recommendation is an enlarged bank account The democrats propose the name of John M Palmer for the place A vote for a democratic representative to the state legislature will also mean a vote for Palmer The voter will be invited to inspect the entire program There will be no such thing as trusting to the legislator to deal honestly with the peoples' wishes in the matter of choosing a Senator The candidate will be named in advance, and it will not be possible to play anything like the Iowa game.

On the other hand we have been given an indication that the republicans of the state intend to pursue the same old game that is resulting so disastrously to the Iowa farmers The papers that support the Cullom, Fifer and Tanner crowd are howling against naming anybody. They are probably aware that they might have their man named, but they are fearful that he would stand very little show before the voters of the state. And so the old republican will be asked to walk up and vote the old ticket straight, and trust to the wire-pulling fathers in council to choose a man who will be all that the people could wish This proposition will have whatever vantage is to be got out of precedent, and so it will appeal with force to the man who is searching high and low for an excuse that will allow him to vote the republican ticket. But the proposition will also have to bear the brunt of abused trust that goes along with the Iowa case The Iowa legislators know that they would not dare to run Allison before the people of that state The country districts would return him the most badly disfigured and completely beaten man in existence The legislators know of this feeling among the people, for it is made unmistakably plain to them every day And yet they will go to work and give Allison a caucus nomination that is unanimous The combined protests of the thousands of farmers are not strong enough to secure one dissenting vote. Why, the protests of a band of Zulus would count for as much as does that of the republican farmer of Iowa after he allows himself to be led quietly through election day And so will it be with our farmers if they allow the smooth-tongued professionals to confidence them on and before election day

The case from Iowa shows that the farmer and laboring man must speak in time, or not atall The time to speak out in Illinois is when the state convention is held If the republicans will not name a candidate on that day, let the voter who wishes to have a voice in the choice of a senator vote with the party that does name the man.

STOP THE STRANGER

It looks now as if it were no longer safe for a man to go into a strange town in this part of the country A few days ago a man who was not known dropped into St Louis. It was at once supposed that he must be a wanted Cronin suspect The St Louis police telegraphed to Chicago that they had a man who was an entire stranger in the city Chicago police are on the lookout for men who are strangers in neighboring cities, and so they concluded to have the man brought to their town for purposes of identification They went to St Louis actually made the man prisoner and loaded him on the cars that run to the Garden City They landed the prisoner all right and then found that there was nobody in Chicago who could identify him Now the Chicago police are not atall anxious about men who are not well known in their town and owing to this fortunate circumstance the prisoner Kelly, was allowed to again take up his liberty

Now it is a little strange that a man should be run up and down our land under the escort of blue coated detectives and police just because nobody happened to know him And it is to be hoped that this pleasant police diversion will be given a setback There are too many strangers in a country like ours, and too many escaped suspects who are wanted in Chicago There is plenty law to which a stranger may appeal to be delivered from one of these uniformed escorts but it takes the sinews of war to call in the aid of habeas corpus and Bill of Rights If strangers are to be arrested until the last of the Chicago suspects homeward fly, it will become necessary for each traveler to take along passports and well attested documents of identification If any of our readers wish to go away from home for a while they will save trouble and mortification by getting from the Chicago chief of police an instrument that will inform all concerned that the bearer is not wanted in that city

Chicago is making a magnificent effort for the World's Fair and it knows that the fight is won as soon as it can assure the rest of the country that one of its famous suspects will certainly be placed on exhibition And it is on account of this that the authorities are willing to run in every man who may be found wandering beyond the circle of his acquaintances And while the net is out to drag the country in we will have no time to fool away with the [illegible] of common strangers.

BUZZARDS

The democrats of the Ohio legislature have entered on their task of unseating a sufficient number of their opponents to make their control secure They are very like republicans in congress —Decatur Herald

Either of the actions spoken of is preferable to an emasculated independence that reserves its well balanced grunts until both processions have passed out of hearing Yes we refer to the republican whose particular phobia runs to the unseating of democrats We have notice of the existence of such a man, and can lay plans and make preparations as to when how and where to meet him But there is no way to cut short the pranks of those camp followers who trail along in the rear and watch for an opportunity to do the buzzard act They call themselves independents, which in this instance means that all the world is their legitimate prey They throw a coin into the air and cry "heads I win, tails, you lose" The democrats in Ohio are very bad as are the republicans in Washington Well it will be a long while before the [illegible] of either party turn the management of affairs over to a set of queer creatures who wait for history in order to form their opinions Just at present two bands of warring eagles are contending for possession and there is no disposition on either side to call in the buzzards These ill [illegible] odored birds will please move a little further to the rear The world will take notice when there is rotting [illegible] to be had and then they may move up and clear the field for further action

THE BULLETIN has treated the [illegible] Line extension case by advocating the [illegible] nance and praising the men who voted against it And the wonder grows that one small head should keep so many warring ideas at peace The Bulletin's idea is an instantaneous and simultaneous imitation of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde.

CONGRESS is now wrestling with the location of the World's Fair What a chance Reed would have to display his parliamentary ability if there was in all the state of Maine a city that could provide a Fair visitor with that component part of nourishment known as a drink

THE patriots must be mighty scarce in The Herald composing room. Some one ought to have been found with sufficient appreciation of Washington's natal day to set the affidavit aside, at least for the once

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY was observed in a hundred homes of our city by futile prayer in behalf of the affidavit's regeneration

THEY are now known as the Vanished Four who are trying to drag the memory of their bad deeds after them

1890

Some people agree with The Sun's opinions about men and things, and some people don't, but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind

Democrats know that for twenty years The Sun has fought in the front line for democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the true interests of the party it serves with fearless intelligence and disinterested vigor At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose, it is not the Sun's fault if it has seen further into the millstone

Eighteen hundred and ninety is the year that will probably determine the result of the presidential election of 1892, and perhaps the fortunes of the democracy for the rest of the century Victory in 1892 is a duty and the beginning of 1890 is the best time to start out in company with the Sun

NAME THE MAN.

We note that the farmers of Iowa are still sending in petitions to the legislature, asking it to elect somebody in place of Allison to the U. S Senate Gov Larrabee would be quite acceptable. Now it seems as if even the Iowa farmer ought to have sense enough to know that the polls is the only place to beat Allison It may be true that Larrabee would be a great improvement over the present caucus nominee, but it will take a long while to convince the party bosses of anything like that The esteem in which Quay and Carnegie hold the Iowa Senator is as boundless as their designs upon the future labor of the farmer. It is necessary that Iowa should assist in replenishing the purse with which Carnegie pays for million-dollar libraries, and Allison is the man in that state whose heart and soul and aspirations are in the same scheme Larrabee might be honest enough to make a few objections, he might not think enough of a possible presidential nomination to trade his convictions for it he might imagine that guarding the interests of his constituents amounted to a duty that could not be shaken off All these queer notions would surely stand in the way of delivering a vote to some of Quay's pet schemes

But Allison has been tried by the barons, and they have found that he is to be depended on They know what his speeches were a few years ago, and they also know how ready he is now to vote the other way Such a plastic fellow is not to be picked up every day, and when Quay and Carnegie find one they call in Harrison's assistance and hold on to him What influence can the farmers imagine they have at this stage of the game? They were heard on election day and they will please keep quiet until the calendar recognizes them again It is true the Iowa farmers made a pretty vigorous speech They assisted in turning part of the state over to the democrats That was the only way to beat the republican candidate for governor. Some of them hoped to beat Allison and at the same time retain a republican senator from the state. They thought that they would be given a voice in naming the particular republican who should be chosen They now know that their power to influence a selection closed with the polls on election day Thereafter the matter was entirely in the hands of the very few who make politics a profession It is too late for them to talk now They did not want Allison, but it was impossible for them to beat him and at the same time hold on to the republican party. The ordinary farmer talks on election day, or not atall

The people of Illinois have something to learn from the Iowa case There is a very general desire that the right man shall represent this state in the U S Senate as soon as the time expires in which Farwell is allowed to make a monkey of himself The people of the state want to know who that man is They don t want Farwell neither will they have any other man whose only recommendation is an enlarged bank account The democrats propose the name of John M Palmer for the place. A vote for a democratic representative to the state legislature will also mean a vote for Palmer The voter will be invited to inspect the entire program There will be no such thing as trusting to the legislator to deal honestly with the peoples' wishes in the matter of choosing a Senator The candidate will be named in advance and it will not be possible to play anything like the Iowa game

On the other hand we have been given an indication that the republicans of the state intend to pursue the same old game that is resulting so disastrously to the Iowa farmers The papers that support the Cullom, Fifer and Tanner crowd are howling against naming anybody. They are probably aware that they might have their man named, but they are fearful that he would stand very little show before the voters of the state. And so the old republican will be asked to walk up and vote the old ticket straight, and trust to the wire-pulling fathers in council to choose a man who will be all that the people could wish. This proposition will have whatever vantage is to be got out of precedent, and so it will appeal with force to the man who is searching high and low for an excuse that will allow him to vote the republican ticket. But the proposition will also have to bear the brunt of abused trust that goes along with the Iowa case The Iowa legislators know that they would not dare to run Allison before the people of that state. The country districts would return him the most badly disfigured and completely beaten man in existence The legislators know of this feeling among the people, for it is made unmistakably plain to them every day And yet they will go to work and give Allison a caucus nomination that is unanimous The combined protests of the thousands of farmers are not strong enough to secure one dissenting vote. Why, the protests of a band of Zulus would count for as much as does that of the republican farmer of Iowa after he allows himself to be led quietly through election day And so will it be with our farmers if they allow the smooth-tongued professionals to confidence them on and before election day

The case from Iowa shows that the farmer and laboring man must speak in time, or not atall The time to speak out in Illinois is when the state convention is held If the republicans will not name a candidate on that day, let the voter who wishes to have a voice in the choice of a senator vote with the party that does name the man

STOP THE STRANGER.

It looks now as if it were no longer safe for a man to go into a strange town in this part of the country A few days ago a man who was not known dropped into St Louis It was at once supposed that he must be a wanted Cronin suspect The St Louis police telegraphed to Chicago that they had a man who was an entire stranger in the city Chicago police are on the lookout for men who are strangers in neighboring cities, and so they concluded to have the man brought to their town for purposes of identification They went to St Louis, actually made the man prisoner and loaded him on the cars that run to the Garden City They landed the prisoner all right and then found that there was nobody in Chicago who could identify him Now the Chicago police are not atall anxious about men who are not well known in their town, and owing to this fortunate circumstance the prisoner, Kelly, was allowed to again take up his liberty.

Now it is a little strange that a man should be run up and down our land under the escort of blue coated detectives and police just because nobody happened to know him And it is to be hoped that this pleasant police diversion will be given a setback There are too many strangers in a country like ours, and too many escaped suspects who are wanted in Chicago There is plenty law to which a stranger may appeal to be delivered from one of these uniformed escorts, but it takes the sinews of war to call in the aid of habeas corpus and bill of Rights If strangers are to be arrested until the last of the Chicago suspects home ward fly, it will become necessary for each traveler to take along passports and well attested documents of identification If any of our readers wish to go away from home for a while they will save trouble and mortification by getting from the Chicago chief of police an instrument that will inform all concerned that the bearer is not wanted in that city

Chicago is making a magnificent effort for the World's Fair and it knows that the fight is won as soon as it can assure the rest of the country that one of its famous suspects will certainly be placed on exhibition And it is on account of this that the authorities are willing to run in every man who may be found wandering beyond the circle of his acquaintances And while the net is out to drag the country in men who have no time to fool away will be careful not to become strangers

BUZZARDS

The democrats of the Ohio legislature have entered on their task of unseating a sufficient number of their opponents to make their control secure They are very like republicans in congress —Decatur Herald

Either of the actions spoken of is preferable to an emasculated independence that reserves its well balanced grunts until both processions have passed out of hearing Yes, we prefer the republican whose particular phobia runs to the unseating of democrats We have notice of the existence of such a man, and can lay plans and make preparations as to when, how and where to meet him But there is no way to cut short the pranks of those camp followers who trail along in the rear and watch for an opportunity to do the buzzard act They call themselves independents, which in this instance means that all the world is their legitimate prey They throw a coin into the air and cry, "heads I win tails, you lose The democrats in Ohio are very bu[sy] as are the republicans in Washington Well it will be a long while before the men of either party turn the management of affairs over to a set of queer independents who wait for history in order to form their opinions Just at present two bands of war eagles are contending for possession and there is no disposition on either side to call in the buzzards These ill omened foul odored birds will please move further to the rear The winners will give them notice when there is nothing left to be had, and then they may move up and the field for further action

THE BULLETIN has treated the Street Line extension case by advocating the ordinance and praising the men who voted against it And the wonder grows that one small head should keep so many warring ideas at peace The Bulletin's feat is an instantaneous and simultaneous imitation of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde.

CONGRESS is now wrestling with the location of the World's Fair What a chance Reed would have to display his parliamentary ability if there was in all the state of Maine a city that could provide a fair visitor with that component part of nourishment known as a drink

THE patriots must be mighty scarce in The Herald composing room Some one ought to have been found with sufficient appreciation of Washington's natal day to set the affidavit aside, at least for the once.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY was observed in a hundred homes of our city by futile prayer in behalf of the affidavit's regeneration.

THEY are now known as the Vanished Four who are trying to drag the memory of their bad deeds after them.

THE -:- SUN

FOR

1890

Some people agree with The Sun's opinions about men and things, and some people don't, but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind

Democrats know that for twenty years The Sun has fought in the front line for democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the true interests of the party it serves with fearless intelligence and disinterested vigor. At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose it is not the Sun's fault if it has seen further into the millstone

Eighteen hundred and ninety is the year that will probably determine the result of the presidential election of 1892, and perhaps the fortunes of the democracy for the rest of the century Victory in 1892 is a duty and the beginning of 1890 is the best time to start out in company with the Sun

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1890.

MATTERS OF FACT.

Board at Combs' restaurant.

Big jewelry sale at Chicago Cheap Store.

Henry Bros. keep the best bread in the city.

Good warm rooms at Combs' European hotel. Go there to board.

If you want a good, clean, wholesome lunch, go to Henry Bros.

A fine line of Florida oranges at Bramble's, 155 North Waler street.

Go to Combs' restaurant and European hotel opposite Grand opera house.

Madam Howe will remain here for one week longer. Don't fail to see and consult her.

Gold pens, beautiful pearl handles, just the thing for a gift, at J. E. Saxton's book store.

For kid glove oranges, the finest in the market, go to Bramble's, 155 North Water street.

Prudent housekeepers who want to preserve heir reputation as breadmakers, should always use Hatfield's flour.

Every one who is in the swim must take his shoes to E. W. Chandler's for repairs. Anything else is bad form. He can be found at the Tabernacle building.

Whenever you hear a song that you like, go to Prescott's and get the music. At the same time you may look at his large stock of musical instruments.

Just received a large consignment of fresh garden and field seed, which we will wholesale and retail.

THE SPENCER & LEHMAN CO.

Hatfield Milling company is now prepared to deliver corn to any part of the city, either chopped, shelled or in the ear. Also, the best flour, bran and shorts. If you need anything of the kind, telephone an order to No. 41, and it will receive prompt attention.

The slaughter has begun and will continue until our entire stock of boots, shoes and rubbers are closed out. We mean what we say—we are going to quit business. We have about 900 pairs of men's shoes and about 1,000 pairs of women's shoes on hand, also boys, misses and children's shoes. Call and get them, they must all go.

BARBER & BAKER.

While you are in the Standard sewing machine office don't allow the bicycle riding of the ladies, gents, boys and girls to occupy your entire time. See and know for yourself the many points of superiority the Standard sewing machine has over all others. Give the Merritt typewriter some notice, and remember we have the best of sewing machine and bicycle oil, also sewing machine needles. You can have various excuses for calling. No charge for admission. No. 110 and 114 library block.

The remark is made, much more frequently than once daily, how I wish I had tried the STANDARD, or frequently, even seen it run before I purchased the (1) stop and start shuttle, nerve-shaker I now have. The Standard shuttle makes a stitch for every revolution; loop from needle passing entirely over shuttle and bobbin. Millions of money have been spent trying to accomplish what Mack Bros. have in the Standard; it is the only revolving shuttle sewing machine on the market. Office in Library block, 110 and 114 William street.

On to Roodhouse.

The I., D. & W. extension from this city to Roodhouse, Ill., is again being agitated and some of the best posted railroad men in the country say, such a road would be a stroke of policy and good judgment as would be certain to be a success from the start. In conversation on the subject, a railroad man of large experience in railroad building and well posted as to the west, says that "the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western cannot do better than to go back to the original plan and extend the road to Roodhouse, where connection would be made with the Chicago & Alton, a road which would give the I., D. & W. a valuable outlet to the west, and a short line as well."

Stock Sale Postponed.

The large sale of cattle, hogs, horses and farming implements at the farm of John A Brown, five and one-half miles east of Decatur, on account of inclement weather, is postponed to Wednesday, Feb. 26th, at 10:30 a. m. Mr. Brown has rented his farm and is selling out completely. A fine lot of stock, etc., will be offered.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Bicycle School.

Commutation tickets, $5 for 30 hours of riding; time as you please, 15, 30, or 60 minutes. Persons not holding one of the tickets pay for use of wheel 10, 15 and 25c respectively. Nos. 110 and 114 Library Block, William street.

To Ice Dealers.

Ice 23 inches thick at Worthington, Minn., and Spirit Lake, Ia. Freight to St. Louis or East St. Louis $2.50 per ton. See local agents for rates. For further particulars address Hall & Co., Spirit Lake, Ia.

THIS WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS.

There will be only one attraction at the Grand Opera House this week, "The Dark Secret," but it is one of such magnificent proportions and intrinsic merit that the decrease in the number of amusements will be forgotten in the grandeur of the one we'll have. Of its presentation in that city, The New York World says:

To say that it surpasses anything that has ever been presented on the stage is but faint praise. The immense audience applauded this scene so heartily that the artists and managers must have stretched several inches in their own estimation. But the surprises do not end here, for Stephen, discovering that May Joyce has found a link connecting him with the murder of Cecil, determines that she shall not live to tell the tale, and after a brief struggle, throws her bodily from the wharf into the river. Here ensues a scene that, for bold and daring realistic effects, surpasses everything attempted on any stage. The audience sees the woman struggling in the water, shrieking piteously for help, with the water ever gargling over her mouth as her head sinks beneath the surface, while the people sit spell-bound in their seats, as they see the poor woman throw up her hands in the last vain effort and sink entirely out of sight, water closing over her. While her death shrieks are still ringing in their ears, the audience are aroused as if by an electric shock; in fact, they were electrified at the sight of a large row boat pulling rapidly on, Martin Brooke standing in the bow urging the oarsmen to greater effort, that they may be able to rescue the drowning woman, and when the boat reaches a point near where they saw her disappear he boldly dives into the water, head first, and a few moments later reappears, striving to reach the boat, into which they are pulled with eager hands, and the curtain falls on a tableau which the audience can never forget.

The introduction of a river of real water—eight to ten feet deep—boats, steam launches, with steam up, the Henley regatta, the attempted drowning of a lady, prove sufficient to assure the success of the play, aside from its daring and novel realism.—Philadelphia Daily Times.

The above play will be given at the Grand Opera House next Wednesday and Thursday nights, and ought to attract full houses on both nights.

THE UNION REVIVAL.

Converts to Unite with the Church of Their Choice.

The following resolutions were passed by the executive committee of the union evangelistic meetings at its meeting held Feb 10, 1890:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this executive committee that during the continuance of the Mills evangelistic meetings in this city, it would be a breach of good faith and an infraction of the principles of Christian comity for any pastor, or member of any church in the combination, to use any influence, direct or indirect, to induce converts to unite with the church to which they may themselves belong

Resolved, That each pastor be furnished a copy of the above resolution and that he is hereby requested to read the same to his congregation on the Sabbath preceding the commencement of the evangelistic meetings.

The Result of Merit.

When anything stands a test of fifty years among a discriminating people like the Americans, it is pretty good evidence that there is merit somewhere. The value of a medicine is best proved by its continuous use from year to year by the same persons and families, as well as by a steadily increasing sale. Few, if any, medicines have met with such continued success and popularity as has marked the introduction and progress of Brandreth's Pills, which, after a trial of over fifty years, are conceded to be the safest and most effectual purgative introduced to the public.

That this is the result of merit, and that Brandreth's Pills actually perform all that is claimed for them, is conclusively proved by the fact that those who regard them with the greatest favor are those who have used them the longest.

Bois d'Arc School

Miss Nina Baker, teacher, closed Feb. 21. The teacher gave the scholars all a nice present. Arthur Rucker, Willie Chapman, Adella Davis and Arthur Davis were neither absent or tardy during the whole term of school. They got first choice of the presents. After the pupils had received their presents, they presented the teacher with a nice writing desk. There were many visitors and all had a nice time. Before Miss Baker left the schoolhouse the directors engaged her to teach the summer term.

Modern Conveniences.

None of the many inventions of recent days have done so much to save time and trouble and given so much comfort as electric bells and kindred appliances. Cothron & Merker, the Decatur electricians, are prepared to put in all electrical connections, including call bells, alarms and lighting apparatus, and they guarantee all work. See if they can't furnish something you want. Call at 239 North Water street.

Public Sale

of J. Ullrich & Son. The undersigned will sell at public sale at their farm, 3 miles west of Lovington, Ill., on Tuesday, Feb. 25, 1890, 26 draft horses and mares mostly of latter. Most of them studded to full blood Percheron horse. Train leaves Decatur at 7:10 a. m., returning at 6:11 p. m. Train will stop one-half mile north of the farm. Lunch at 12. Sale commences at 12:30 promptly.

Clancy's Removal.

P. M. Clancy wants all his friends to remember that he has left his old stand on North Jasper street, and has removed to more central and commodious quarters, at No. 224 North Park. He expects to conduct a first class saloon, keeping only the best brands of liquors and cigars, and he will surely receive a large share of the public patronage.

St. Mary's Hospital.

Sealed bids for the completion of St. Mary's Hospital will be received up to the 5th of March, 1890.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the hospital.

The sisters reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Something New.

All having an eye for the beautiful in fine art should go to C. E. Akers, 233 North Main and see the large line of etchings; remarque artists proofs, etc, just received by him. It is a treat worth paying for, and all the better because all are cordially invited to come and see his goods.

At Abel's Carpet House.

Special Sale every day to close out Remnants of Carpets and Wall Paper.

New Spring Goods in all lines arriving daily. It would pay you to make your selections before the rush of Spring trade begins.

AN APPEAL,

From the Woman's Charitable Union and a Resume of Their Work.

The Woman's Industrial and Charitable union, in three months of experimental existence, has established its position as a necessity, and its right to claim the cordial support of the community. The quarterly report of the secretary, which will be published in a short time, will show that, in the amount of clothing judiciously distributed, the relief given to the sick poor and homes found for destitute children, the work procured for women and girls, the help given in removing families from town who have been and would have continued to be county charges, the society more than met the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Three Industrial schools have been established, where about 50 young girls are being taught useful work. The labor directory is daily becoming more and more useful as a medium for bringing workers and employes together; and the Woman's Exchange is helping over 50 women to self-supporting work while it is relieving housekeepers of much work and care by furnishing delicious home-made edibles at reasonable prices. With this record, showing the usefulness of our work, we confidently appeal to the community for financial support. Very few of our citizens have been called upon for subscriptions, because the time of the secretary has been fully occupied with the relief work of the union. Those who have already become subscribers or members will not be called upon again during this fiscal year, but a canvass of the city will be commenced in a few days for further subscriptions. Ladies who have joined the union but have not paid their dues will confer a great favor on the secretary if they will call at the exchange and settle. There are hundreds of ladies in the city who ought to join us, and whose dollar and help are both needed in this effort to suppress pauperism, and secure work for the needy and homes and instruction for pauper children, thus rescuing them from the fate which at present seems inevitable. Will not such ladies voluntarily come to us and give us their names, and so save a troublesome and expensive canvass.

"Hands Up, Gentlemen."

We are first again. The first installment of our spring stock has arrived, and awaits your inspection. It is a dandy, and consists of the latest novelties the foreign markets have produced for spring and summer wear.

Light weight overcoatings and trouserings in quantities that will surprise as well as please you. We wish to call special attention to our elegant stock of suitings in latest weave weyls, plaids, checks, etc. And in dress goods we can show you whipcords, double corkscrews, venetians, diagonals, crepes, clay worsteds, birdseye, etc., and also a very select line of fancy vestings. Remember we make a specialty of fine dress suits. You understand the advantage of calling early. A word to the wise is sufficient. Very respectfully,

MULEADY & SON.

Opposite postoffice.

Prompt Work.

Received, of the Prairie State Beneficiary Association, of Peoria, Ill., through Pritchett & Walmsley, agents, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, in full, of Certificate No. 2112, upon the life of our father, L. B. Dunnigan, who died Feb. 8, 1890. And in view of the prompt payment by the Association of our full claim within 11 days after death, we would certainly be ungrateful if we did not cheerfully commend the Prairie State, of Peoria, and the obliging agents in this city, Messrs. Pritchett & Walmsley, of 152 East Main street, to those who wish reliable life insurance.

MATTIE E. FOSTER,
LOUISA DUNNIGAN,

Beneficiaries and Daughters of L. B. Dunnigan, deceased.

Notice to Water Consumers.

Notice is hereby given to consumers of city water that water will be shut off from 5 a. m. to 9 a. m. on Sunday, Feb. 23, in order that connection may be made with the new Clapp & Jones pump.

H. F. MAY,
Chairman Water Com.

Indigestion.

A recent attack of indigestion or constipation is easily cured if the right remedy is applied, but every medicine except Hamburg Figs, is so disgusting to tast or smell that a person perfers to let the disease take its course, if the above laxative cannot be obtained, 25 cents. Dose, one Fig

Cancer of the Nose.

In 1875 a sore appeared on my nose, and grew rapidly. As my father had cancer, and my husband died of it, I became alarmed, and consulted my physician. His treatment did no good, and the sore grew larger and worse in every way, until I had concluded that I was to die from its effects. I was persuaded to take S. S. S., and a few bottles cured me. This was after all the doctors and other medicines had failed. I have had no return of the cancer.

MATTERS OF FACT.

Board at Combs' restaurant.

Big jewelry sale at Chicago Cheap Store.

Henry Bros. keep the best bread in the city.

Good warm rooms at Combs' European hotel. Go there to board.

If you want a good, clean, wholesome lunch, go to Henry Bros.

A fine line of Florida oranges at Bramble's, 155 North Water street.

Go to Combs' restaurant and European hotel opposite Grand opera house.

Madam Howe will remain here for one week longer. Don't fail to see and consult her.

Gold pens, beautiful pearl handles, just the thing for a gift, at J. E. Saxton's book store.

For kid glove oranges, the finest in the market, go to Bramble's, 155 North Water street.

Prudent housekeepers who want to preserve their reputation as breadmakers. should always use Hatfield's flour.

Every one who is in the swim must take his shoes to E. W. Chandler's for repairs. Anything else is bad form. He can be found at the Tabernacle building.

Whenever you hear a song that you like, go to Prescott's and get the music. At the same time you may look at his large stock of musical instruments.

Just received a large consignment of fresh garden and field seed, which we will wholesale and retail.

THE SPENCER & LEHMAN CO.

The Hatfield Milling company is now prepared to deliver corn to any part of the city, either chopped, shelled or in the ear. Also, the best flour, bran and shorts. If you need anything of the kind, telephone an order to No. 11, and it will receive prompt attention.

The slaughter has begun and will continue until our entire stock of boots, shoes and rubbers are closed out. We mean what we say—we are going to quit business. We have about 300 pairs of men's shoes and about 1,000 pairs of women's shoes on hand, also boys, misses and children's shoes. Call and get them, they must all go.

BARBER & BAKER.

While you are in the Standard sewing machine office don't allow the bicycle riding of the ladies, gents, boys and girls to occupy your entire time. See and know for yourself the many points of superiority the Standard sewing machine has over all others. Give the Merritt typewriter some notice, and remember we have the best of sewing machine and bicycle oil, also sewing machine needles. You can have various excuses for calling. No charge for admission. No. 110 and 114 library block.

The remark is made, much more frequently than once daily, how I wish I had tried the STANDARD, or frequently, even seen it run before I purchased the (4) stop and start shuttle, nerve-shaker I now have. The Standard shuttle makes a stitch for every revolution; loop from needle passing entirely over shuttle and bobbin. Millions of money have been spent trying to accomplish what Mack Bros. have in the Standard; it is the only revolving shuttle sewing machine on the market. Office in Library block, 110 and 114 William street.

On to Roodhouse.

The I. D. & W. extension from this city to Roodhouse, Ill., is again being agitated and some of the best posted railroad men in the country say, such a road would be a stroke of policy and good judgment as would be certain to be a success from the start. In conversation on the subject, a railroad man of large experience in railroad building and well posted as to the west, says that "the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western cannot do better than to go back to the original plan and extend the road to Roodhouse, where connection would be made with the Chicago & Alton, a road which would give the I., D. & W. a valuable outlet to the west, and a short line as well."

Stock Sale Postponed.

The large sale of cattle, hogs, horses and farming implements at the farm of John A. Brown, five and one-half miles east of Decatur, on account of inclement weather, is postponed to Wednesday, Feb. 26th, at 10:30 a. m. Mr. Brown has rented his farm and is selling out completely. A fine lot of stock, etc., will be offered.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Bicycle School.

Commutation tickets, $5 for 30 hours of riding; time as you please, 15, 30, or 60 minutes. Persons not holding one of the tickets pay for use of wheel 10, 15 and 25c respectively. Nos. 110 and 114 Library Block, William street.

To Ice Dealers.

THIS WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS.

There will be only one attraction at the Grand Opera House this week, "The Dark Secret," but it is one of such magnificent proportions and intrinsic merit that the decrease in the number of amusements will be forgotten in the grandeur of the one we'll have. Of its presentation in that city, The New York World says:

To say that it surpasses anything that has ever been presented on the stage is but faint praise. The immense audience applauded this scene so heartily that the artists and managers must have stretched several inches in their own estimation. But the surprises do not end here, for Stephen, discovering that May Joyce has found a link connecting him with the murder of Cecil, determines that she shall not live to tell the tale, and after a brief struggle, throws her bodily from the wharf into the river. Here ensues a scene that, for bold and daring realistic effects, surpasses everything attempted on any stage. The audience sees the woman struggling in the water, shrieking piteously for help, with the water ever gurgling over her mouth as her head sinks beneath the surface, while the people sit spell-bound in their seats, as they see the poor woman throw up her hands in the last vain effort and sink entirely out of sight, water closing over her. While her death shrieks are still ringing in their ears, the audience are aroused as if by an electric shock; in fact, they were electrified at the sight of a large row boat pulling rapidly on, Martin Brooke standing in the bow urging the oarsmen to greater effort, that they may be able to rescue the drowning woman, and when the boat reaches a point near where they saw her disappear he boldly dives into the water, head first, and a few moments later reappears, striving to reach the boat, into which they are pulled with eager hands, and the curtain falls on a tableau which the audience can never forget.

The introduction of a river of real water—eight to ten feet deep—boats, steam launches, with steam up, the Henley regatta, the attempted drowning of a lady, prove sufficient to assure the success of the play, aside from its daring and novel realism.—Philadelphia Daily Times.

The above play will be given at the Grand Opera House next Wednesday and Thursday nights, and ought to attract full houses on both nights.

THE UNION REVIVAL.

Converts to Unite with the Church of Their Choice.

The following resolutions were passed by the executive committee of the union evangelistic meetings at its meeting held Feb 10, 1890:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this executive committee that during the continuance of the Mills evangelistic meetings in this city, it would be a breach of good faith and an infraction of the principles of Christian comity for any pastor, or member of any church in the combination, to use any influence, direct or indirect, to induce converts to unite with the church to which they may themselves belong.

Resolved, That each pastor be furnished a copy of the above resolution and that he is hereby requested to read the same to his congregation on the Sabbath preceding the commencement of the evangelistic meetings.

The Result of Merit.

When anything stands a test of fifty years among a discriminating people like the Americans, it is pretty good evidence that there is merit somewhere. The value of a medicine is best proved by its continuous use from year to year by the same persons and families, as well as by a steadily increasing sale. Few, if any, medicines have met with such continued success and popularity as has marked the introduction and progress of Brandreth's Pills, which, after a trial of over fifty years, are conceded to be the safest and most effectual purgative introduced to the public.

That this is the result of merit, and that Brandreth's Pills actually perform all that is claimed for them, is conclusively proved by the fact that those who regard them with the greatest favor are those who have used them the longest.

Brandreth's Pills are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

Bois d'Arc School

Miss Nina Baker, teacher, closed Feb. 21. The teacher gave the scholars all a nice present. Arthur Rucker, Willie Chapman, Adella Davis and Arthur Davis were neither absent or tardy during the whole term of school. They got first choice of the presents. After the pupils had received their presents, they presented the teacher with a nice writing desk. There were many visitors and all had a nice time. Before Miss Baker left the schoolhouse the directors engaged her to teach the summer term.

Modern Conveniences.

None of the many inventions of recent days have done so much to save time and trouble and given so much comfort as electric bells and kindred appliances. Cothron & Merker, the Decatur electricians, are prepared to put in all electrical connections, including call bells, alarms and lighting apparatus, and they guarantee all work. See if they can't furnish something you want. Call at 239 North Water street.

Public Sale

of J. Ullrich & Son. The undersigned will sell at public sale at their farm, 3 miles west of Lovington, Ill., on Tuesday, Feb. 25, 1890, 26 draft horses and mares mostly of latter. Most of them studded to full blood Percheron horse. Train leaves Decatur at 7:10 a. m., returning at 6:11 p. m. Train will stop one-half mile north of the farm. Lunch at 12. Sale commences at 12:30 promptly.

Clancy's Removal.

P. M. Clancy wants all his friends to remember that he has left his old stand on North Jasper street, and has removed to more central and commodious quarters, at No. 224 North Park. He expects to conduct a first-class saloon, keeping only the best brands of liquors and cigars, and he will surely receive a large share of the public patronage.

St. Mary's Hospital.

Sealed bids for the completion of St. Mary's Hospital will be received up to the 5th of March, 1890.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the hospital.

The sisters reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Something New.

All having an eye for the beautiful in fine art should go to C. E. Akers, 233 North Main and see the large line of etchings; remarque artists proofs, etc, just received by him. It is a treat worth paying for, and all the better because all are cordially invited to come and see his goods.

At Abel's Carpet House.

Special Sale every day to close out Remnants of Carpets and Wall Paper.

New Spring Goods in all lines arriving daily. It would pay you to make your selections before the rush of Spring trade begins.

AN APPEAL,

From the Woman's Charitable Union and a Resume of Their Work.

The Woman's Industrial and Charitable union, in three months of experimental existence, has established its position as a necessity, and its right to claim the cordial support of the community. The quarterly report of the secretary, which will be published in a short time, will show that, in the amount of clothing judiciously distributed, the relief given to the sick poor, and homes found for destitute children, the work procured for women and girls, the help given in removing families from town who have been and would have continued to be county charges, the society more than met the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Three Industrial schools have been established, where about 50 young girls are being taught useful work. The labor directory is daily becoming more and more useful as a medium for bringing workers and employes together; and the Woman's Exchange is helping over 50 women to self-supporting work while it is relieving housekeepers of much work and care by furnishing delicious home-made edibles at reasonable prices. With this record, showing the usefulness of our work, we confidently appeal to the community for financial support. Very few of our citizens have been called upon for subscriptions, because the time of the secretary has been fully occupied with the relief work of the union. Those who have already become subscribers or members will not be called upon again during this fiscal year, but a canvass of the city will be commenced in a few days for further subscriptions. Ladies who have joined the union but have not paid their dues will confer a great favor on the secretary if they will call at the exchange and settle. There are hundreds of ladies in the city who ought to join us, and whose dollar and help are both needed in this effort to suppress pauperism, and secure work for the needy and homes and instruction for pauper children, thus rescuing them from the fate which at present seems inevitable. Will not such ladies voluntarily come to us and give us their names, and so save a troublesome and expensive canvass.

"Hands Up, Gentlemen."

We are first again. The first installment of our spring stock has arrived, and awaits your inspection. It is a dandy, and consists of the latest novelties the foreign markets have produced for spring and summer wear.

Light weight overcoatings and trouserings in quantities that will surprise as well as please you. We wish to call special attention to our elegant stock of suitings in latest weave weyls, plaids, checks, etc. And in dress goods we can show you whipcords, double corkscrews, venetians, diagonals, crepes, clay worsteds, birdseye, etc., and also a very select line of fancy vestings. Remember we make a specialty of fine dress suits. You understand the advantage of calling early. A word to the wise is sufficient. Very respectfully,

MULLEADY & SON.

Opposite postoffice.

Prompt Work.

Received, of the Prairie State Beneficiary Association, of Peoria, Ill., through Pritchett & Walmsley, agents, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, in full, of Certificate No. 2112, upon the life of our father, L. B. Dunnigan, who died Feb. 8, 1890. And in view of the prompt payment by the Association of our full claim within 11 days after death, we would certainly be ungrateful if we did not cheerfully commend the Prairie State, of Peoria, and the obliging agents in this city, Messrs. Pritchett & Walmsley, of 152 East Main street, to those who wish reliable life insurance.

Notice to Water Consumers.

Notice is hereby given to consumers of city water that water will be shut off from 5 a. m. to 9 a. m. on Sunday, Feb. 23, in order that connection may be made with the new Clapp & Jones pump.

H. F. MAY,
Chairman Water Com.

Indigestion.

A recent attack of indigestion or constipation is easily cured if the right remedy is applied, but every medicine except Hamburg Figs, is so disgusting to tast or smell that a person perfers to let the disease take its course, if the above laxative cannot be obtained, 25 cents. Dose, one Fig.

Hemorrhage

Dr. Flint's Remedy will control hemorrhage from the stomach and bowels, which is often dependent on too great supply sent thither by a heart that has some form of dease. Descriptive treatise, with each bottle; or address Mack Drug Co., N. Y.

A Black Friday—That day when a person is first seriously attacked with rheumatism, may well be termed a black one; but if he uses Salvation Oil in time, he will soon be able to speak of a "Good Friday." It is the greatest cure on earth for pain.

The butcher does have some funny expressions. He told his assistant the other day to break the bones in Mr. Williams' chops, and put Mr. Smith's ribs in the basket for him and tell Mrs. Black to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for her cold.

Cancer of the Nose.

In 1875 a sore appeared on my nose, and grew rapidly. As my father had cancer, and my husband died of it, I became alarmed, and consulted my physician. His treatment did no good, and the sore grew larger and worse in every way, until I had concluded that I was to die from its effects. I was persuaded to take S. S. S., and a few bottles cured me. This was after all the doctors and other medicines had failed. I have had no return of the cancer.

Giles R. Warren is thus spoken of by the Chicago Times for his part in the "Scrap of Paper" recently produced there: "Mr. Warren, who has done well on former occasions, displayed a very clever turn for character work in his portrayal of the old naturalist."

The Patterson Case.

When THE REVIEW stated yesterday morning that M. G. Patterson had written to friends here, it was with the full knowledge of the truth of the statement. There was no surmise about it, and papers were received lately that had been signed much later than 'Dec. 24," the South Water street Wobbler to the contrary notwithstanding. Parties most interested confessed to A REVIEW attache that the statement published yesterday morning was true, but wondered greatly how the information leaked out.

It is also pretty generally believed now that Mr. Patterson disappeared to save his bondsmen from financial loss. He knew he could not finish the Normal contract in the time specified, and that both he and his bondsmen would have to suffer. By disappearing his bondsmen could continue the work with the consent of the trustees, having the matter in charge. His disappearance gave them a chance to step in and offer to finish the contract. If the offer were accepted, they were absolved from the liabilities involved in a failure to finish the contract within the time specified in the former agreement, and were only required to finish it as speedily as possible. So long as Mr. Patterson was present in person, this could not be done. The state could recognize him only, and it was undoubtedly—now that late events have thrown much light on the matter—to save his friends and bondsmen, that he left home so unceremoniously. Now that the contract is completed and the building accepted by the state no good reason for his continued absence exists and those who are in a position to know, say he will return to his home in the near future and is liable to return any day.

A Pleasant Party.

There was a very pleasant party Friday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barr, 1135 North Clayton street. Games, music and an elegant repast were indulged in, and a thoroughly good time enjoyed by all. Among the guests were F. M. Kelso and wife, D. R. Reynolds and wife, William Tullin and wife, George H. Goodman and wife, R. S. Merideth and wife, Gus Woods and wife and Mesdames M. F. Parker and Hamilton.

Severely Hurt.

While Mrs. J. C. Atkinson was walking on the sidewalk, near her home, 346 North Jackson street, last evening she slipped and fell, inflicting a severe cut in her head. She was taken to her home and Dr. H. J. Weyl called in. He took several stitches in the cut, and the lady was resting easy at a late hour last night.

The Grand Opera House.

"Later On," it is hoped, the troupe performing at the Grand Opera House last night will favor Decatur with another visit and a repetition of its really good performance. Hart was a little hoarse last night, but was exceedingly successful in pleasing his audience, notwithstanding, and the other actors performed their parts in a creditable manner. The "Later On" troupe did all they advertised to do, and it was a pleased assemblage that left the Grand Opera House after the curtain went down for the last time.

Making Hay While the Sun Shines.

There are a good many people from abroad looking up real estate in Decatur with a desire to invest and improve it. Now the thing to do is to invite them to this city and give them every facility for investing here. Every dollar expended by foreign capital is a direct benefit to the city. If this policy be followed we shall see a vast amount of money brought to Decatur within the next six months. The boom is now fairly inaugurated. The amount of money invested in this city next year will reach many thousands.

A POPULAR PROJECT.

The People Unanimously In Favor of the Park Plan.

This is rather tough weather in which to talk of the beauties and comforts of a sylvan retreat 'neath the umbrageous trees of the peoples' park that is to be. But the snowy landscape and wintry blasts can easily be made to disappear, with the aid of a good imagination, and the almanac tells us that bustle as we may, we will all be longing eagerly for the cool comforts of a park long before we can possibly provide the park. Therefore it is that THE REVIEW intends to keep the matter before the people till the people get a park. It is easier to talk about a park when the sun is shining and the birds are singing, but Time waits not upon the father, and neither can we, if we expect to accomplish anything.

"Do we want a park." "Of course we do," said a Wabash engineer yesterday. "There isn't much question about that. And there isn't any doubt but that the choice of a great majority of the people would fall upon the fair grounds. Those magnificent trees, those natural springs of pure water cannot be found elsewhere. Then too it is convenient of access, and can can be improved with less expense than any other site. I have heard a great deal of talk on the subject in the last few days and everybody agrees on these points. The main question seems to be will the county take a reasonable price for the grounds. If they will, you can regard the matter as settled, for in five days you could get up a petition with three-fourths of the voters in the city on it, asking the council to buy the park on the plan proposed by THE REVIEW, and the council, I think, are willing to pay some respect to the people's wishes by this time. You go ahead and work on the supervisors. If they will do the fair thing the park plan will surely go."

Some people are very hard of understanding, or perhaps they don't investigate thoroughly but take too much for granted. Such a person dropped in to the sanctum Friday evening and was asked what he thought of the park plan. "Oh, it will never go," he said, "it would be a good thing for the Short Line, but the council could never afford to go into a scheme for a public park, no matter what extraordinary inducements were offered, and then guarantee a monopoly for 10 years to a street car line."

"Did you say you had read the proposition as printed in THE REVIEW?"

"Why certainly I read it. That's what it said." And the fellow actually believed it. He was asked to read it over again, and when he saw that there was no monopoly proposed, but that any street car line could come in and on equal terms, he was as surprised as could be, and jumping up, exclaimed: "That's fair enough, surely. I didn't see it that way before. The plan is a good one. Go ahead with it.

THE REVIEW is glad to know that its youthful contemporary, The Despatch, has declared in favor of a park, and will join the triumphal march of progress. We extend the right hand of fellowship.

"The Short Line has aroused Decatur from its lethargy, and all our big booms can be traced to it," said a real estate agent, "but of all that it has accomplished directly and indirectly, nothing will equal in permanent value, this proposed park. Keep up the agitation; the people will stand by you."

Said a physician: "Our factory booms, our low freight boom, our Union depot boom, are all immense milestones of progress, but nothing would do more to add to the beauty of our city, or would more greatly enhance its reputation abroad as a desirable place to live, than a magnificent public park. I regard the plan as fair and in every way practicable. Certainly the tax payers could ask nothing better. You are already arousing great interest in the subject. I hope and believe you will be able to carry it through."

"Am I in favor of your park plan? Mark me down 'yes,'" said a merchant. "The excursions from neighboring towns that it would attract would bring thousands of dollars to Decatur every summer, to say nothing of the comfort our own citizens could take in it."

The Way It Happened.

Snow fell at intervals all day yesterday until late in the evening when the weather clerk, evidently tiring of the monotony of the occasion, commenced sending rain. Mercury took a drop also and the falling rain froze to the pavements, making them as slippery as glass. Pedestrians had all they could do to keep the backs of their heads off of the bricks, and some of them sat down in so sudden and unceremonious a manner as to suggest long and persistent practice. One portly gentleman slipped at the corner of Main and Prairie streets and fell on the parquet of his stomach. His groans were heartbreaking, and his remarks were enough to raise the hat off of your head, so sulphurous and breezy were they. The agitation for the abrogation of the bustle, which some smart Alexanders sprung on a suffering public, did not succeed entirely in its nefarious purpose and it was well for the comfort, nay, even for the anatomy, of a lady gliding along Water street, that it did not succeed. She was looking downward when she suddenly went down herself where her looks had been. When she got settled, which was instantaneously, she was looking upwards, and her bustle was no longer a thing of beauty with perfect cemetry, but was like the Short Line's armatures in the new motors, longitudinal. It saved her lots of pain however, and she will not have to take her meals standing as she most probably would have had to do were it not for the bustle. Therefore beautiful, bulging pain preventing bustle, all hail!

It was all very funny to see others doing the McGinty act, but when your own turn came, all the joy and fun faded out in your heart, and the only thing you wanted on earth was to get at the person laughing or even smiling at you. There is cause for thankfulness however, that the accident column is not filled with much more serious mishaps than the mere falling down of persons as it was really dangerous to navigate the streets after nightfall.

The Cultivators of Young Ideas.

The teacher's meeting in the High school building was largely attended yesterday by teachers outside of, as well as in the city. Prof. Gastman told about the "Reading Circle Work," and pedagogy was lectured on in an interesting manner by Prof. W. A. Edwards. Dr. Barnes gave some enjoyable and instructive recollections of his trip through Europe, and spoke at length of the customs, habits, progress, etc., of the people of the countries through which he passed. In the afternoon the teachers met in the circuit court room where Rev. Dr. Vosburgh delivered an able address on "Mexico and Mexicans."

STRAY SCRAPS.

W. H. Ray, of this city, has been granted an increase of pension.

Wabash Roadmaster John Dailey is in Bluffs transacting business.

Only a few days more until this month will "March, March away."

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Smith, 1148 South Franklin street, a daughter.

The Shakesperean club meet at the home of Miss Lucille Durfee to-morrow night.

Galesburg, Springfield, Cedar Rapids and Terre Haute are looking for baseball managers.

Realism realized beyond precedent in the "Dark Secret" production.—New York World.

Wonder if the Citizens line has any serious objection to the erection of a union depot in this city?

County court was not in session yesterday, Judge Nelson being still confined to his home with a severe cold.

Highway Commissioner E. G. Allen announces as a candidate for the republican nomination for township collector.

An anti-fat club is about to be organized in this city. No one who is not able to sit on the head of a pin is eligible.

A park is one of the necessities of Decatur. Will not the county and city fathers see that Martin's plan be carefully considered?

The switch connections and other appurtenances belonging to the new trucks and motors of the Short Line cars arrived yesterday.

Mike Prince, of last year's Decatur club, wants to sign as catcher with one of the Inter-State teams. He can be addressed at Louisville, Ky.

There is at least one man in Decatur who would constantly kick himself, if he had ingenuity enough to invent a successful self kicker. His first name is John Lindsay.

It was thought for a time that Springfield would not be in the league this year, but the indications now are that the pennant-winners will again cross bats for the rag.

Trotting associations' delegates will meet in this city on the 26th to complete arrangements for the spring and summer races. Peoria and Springfield will send delegates.

What would be the result of churning the cream of society?—Kentucky State Journal.

Maybe Society would butter dashed head off: ain't it?

Supervisor Reed of the Illinois Central was in the city yesterday and stated that the work of raising the grade in the East Fork bottoms is progressing rapidly, and that 175 car loads of dirt had been put in last Friday. At that rate it will not take very long to complete the job.

Washington's birthday was not generally observed in this city. Several flags were wetted in the storm in his honor, and some "here's at you" were drank to his memory, but a new arrival in the country would never suspect it was the anniversary of the birth of the father of his country.

The latest puzzle inflicted on a suffering people is the "McGinty" puzzle. McGinty is in the hole and the object is to get him out and at the same time keep yourself above ground. It is a hard matter to perform, and long continued trying will be a splendid school for temper.

Police Court Cullings.

John Roe one of the men arrested about a month ago for taking possession of the engine house at the depot, and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days was released yesterday and proceeded to celebrate the event by getting gloriously full. He did not stop getting full, but got obstreperous also, and Officer Baylor arrested him and locked him up in the Short Street station. "Thirty more" was his only comment when captured.

Officers Leech and Brockway raided Frank Goodman's gambling rooms yesterday and captured the lay out and five inmates. One of them, John Cowell was fined $25 and costs by Justice Stevens. Two others were fined $15 and costs by Squire Provost, and the proprietor and the other inmate gave security for their appearance before Squire Provost next Monday morning.

The "Two Old Cronies," arrested with the young girl whom they dressed, or induced to dress, in men's clothing were up before 'Squire Stevens yesterday morning. There was a large crowd present, and the order of old "Socks" was represented by proxy, as upon the result of the trial depended the good fellowship of the male defendants. Wilkinson pleaded guilty and was fined $3 and costs. Butterworth stood trial and after he was convicted, declared he would not pay the fine imposed—$3 and costs. He thought better of it, however, and gave security for its payment in a few days.

City Attorney McDonald made a nice little talk for the girl, and for mercy in her case, on account of her youth and the circumstances attending the arrest. The justice lectured the girl in a wholesome manner, secured her promise of future good behavior, and she was allowed to go.

Union Prayer Meetings.

Union prayer meetings will be conducted at the First M. E. church every night next week, except Saturday, in preparation for the union revival to commence at that church on Sunday, March 2, in charge of Rev. B. Fay Mills. The subjects for discussion and the leaders will be as follows:

Monday evening—"Consecration"—J. G. Badenhausen, of Stapp's Chapel.

Tuesday evening—"Christian Unity"—Judge Nelson, of the Christian church.

Wednesday evening—"The Work of the Holy Spirit"—A. H. Mills, of the Presbyterian church.

Thursday evening—"Individual Responsibility"—Henry Smith, of the Baptist church.

Friday evening—"Cooperative Action"—George W. Battles, of the Congregational church.

The Reason Why.

A great many REVIEW readers were anxious to know yesterday what had become of Fergy's mule, whose familiar features and sad-faced expression which he carried at half-mast, had graced these columns for three days previous. There is such a thing as cruelty to animals and there is also a law against being guilty of such cruelty: therefore, the mule has been turned out to grass. The fact that he was known as Fergy's mule, was cruel enough without adding insult to injury, by parading his shame before the public in the columns of the most extensively read paper in Central Illinois.

SAD NEWS.

J. F. SHOEMAKER.

Alderman A. Shoemaker received a telegram yesterday afternoon announcing the death of his father, at Herkimer, Herkimer county, N. Y. J. F. Shoemaker, just deceased, was 87 years of age, and was an old and respected citizen of that portion of the Empire state. Alderman Shoemaker will leave for Herkimer, N. Y., to day to attend the funeral obsequies of his father.

JAMES LYONS.

Mrs. Mary Lyons, of 318 East Esplanade street, has received the sad intelligence of the death of her son James, at Aspen, Col., by the caving in of a portion of a tunnel wall in a mine of which he was the superintendent. His body will be brought here for burial and is expected to arrive to-night or to morrow in charge of his brothers, Miles and Michael.

Farewell Party.

A farewell party was given to Misses Connie and Mercy Crane, the lovely little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mayo Crane, yesterday afternoon at their home, corner of Church and Washington. The evening was spent very pleasantly in games, social amusements and in partaking of the delicious refreshments prepared for them. Among the guests were the following masters and misses: Orville Wilhelmy, Clyde Leach, Arthur Beard, Glen Fenton, Maggie Palmer, Kittie Boynton, Hattie Boynton, Grace Beard, Alma Wilhelmy, Corinne Leach, Willie Miller, Lillie Post, Celia Post Nina Inboden and Cora Downing.

Off the Track.

Passenger train No. 46 ran through an open switch in the east end of the local Wabash yards yesterday morning. The train was not going very fast at the time, which explains the little damage done. The train was delayed an hour and a half.

Whist Party.

There was a delightful gathering of ladies at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Mills yesterday afternoon, and the evening was spent pleasantly in games of whist and in fancy work. Refreshments were served during the evening.

The Elwin Shoot.

The Elwin Gun Club had a shooting match with the Herculean Wing Shot Club near that place Friday. The score stood 101 to 72 in favor of the Herculeans. Taylor Carter of the Herculeans was decided to be the best shot.

Dust to Dust.

David S. Tremble, formerly of the Chicago Cheap Store, died yesterday morning at his residence, 1241 North Main street, of a complication of diseases, in his 35th year. Funeral will take place this after noon at 2 o'clock.

The Mistress (in deep distress)—Go at once, Bridget, and apologize to the janitor.—Boston Times.

Life's Episodes.

Some babes are born, some hearts are wed,
Some souls from earth each breath death snatches,
They bring us hope and joy and dread—
These hatches, matches and dispatches.
—Chicago Herald.

An Apt Characterization.

"Yes," said Brown; "one branch of my family tree consisted almost exclusively of milkmen for six generations."

"Ah, yes!" responded the Inveterate Punster; "sort of pump-kin vine."—Munsey's Weekly.

The Lambkins.

I love to see the little lambs at play
In summer on the flowery, verdant leas,
But on a wild and wintry, stormy day
I love the little lambs served up with peas.
—Boston Courier.

Her Reason.

George—Kate, will you be a sister to me?

Kate—No, George.

"Why won't you?"

"George, I will be a wife to you, but I will never consent to be a sister to you."—Time.

Sad but True.

Alas! a lass is sometimes false,
For false a maid is made;
Her waist is but a barren waste—
Though stayed she is not staid.
—Judge

Sunken Treasure.

"What you been doing since I saw you last?"

"Been falling in love."

"Ah! Get in very deep?"

(Sadly) "Two hundred dollars."—Time.

Instinct.

We stand among the dancers,
Ah, well I know she's false!
For while I get the lunches,
My rival gets the waltz.
—New York Sun.

The Patterson Case

When The Review stated yesterday morning that M G Patterson had written to friends here it was with the full knowledge of the truth of the statement There was no surmise about it, and papers were received lately that had been signed much later than Dec 4 the South Water street Wobbler to the contrary notwithstanding Parties most interested confessed to A Review attache that the statement published yesterday morning was true, but wondered greatly how the information leaked out

It is also pretty generally believed now that Mr Patterson disappeared to save his bondsmen from financial loss He knew he could not finish the Normal contract in the time specified, and that both he and his bondsmen would have to suffer By disappearing his bondsmen could continue the work with the consent of the trustees, having the matter in charge His disappearance gave them a chance to step in and offer to finish the contract If the offer were accepted, they were absolved from the liabilities involved in a failure to finish the contract within the time specified in the former agreement and were only required to finish it as speedily as possible So long as Mr Patterson was present in person, this could not be done The state could recognize him only, and it was undoubtedly—now that late events have thrown much light on the matter—to save his friends and bondsmen that he left home so unceremoniously Now that the contract is completed and the building accepted by the state no good reason for his continued absence exists and those who are in a position to know say he will return to his home in the near future and is liable to return any day

A Pleasant Party

There was a very pleasant party Friday evening at the residence of Mr and Mrs W B Barr, 11 North Clayton street Games, music and an elegant repast were indulged in and a thoroughly good time enjoyed by all Among the guests were F M. Kelso and wife, D R. Reynolds and wife, William Tullin and wife, George H Goodman and wife, R S Meridith and wife, Gus Woods and wife and Mesdames M F Parker and Hamilton

Severely Hurt.

While Mrs J C Atkinson was walking on the sidewalk, near her home, 46 North Jackson street, last evening she slipped and fell, inflicting a severe cut in her head She was taken to her home and Dr H J. Weyl called in He took several stitches in the cut, and the lady was resting easy at a late hour last night.

The Grand Opera House.

"Later On, it is hoped, the troupe performing at the Grand Opera House last night will favor Decatur with another visit and a repetition of its really good performance Hart was a little hoarse last night but was exceedingly successful in pleasing his audience no withstanding, and the other actors performed their parts in a creditable manner The Later On troupe did all they advertised to do and it was a pleased assemblage that left the Grand Opera House after the curtain went down for the last time.

Making Hay While the Sun Shines

There are a good many people from abroad looking up real estate in Decatur with a desire to invest and improve it Now the thing to do is to invite them to this city and give them every facility for investing here Every dollar expended by foreign capital is a direct benefit to the city If this policy be followed we shall see a vast amount of money brought to Decatur within the next six months The boom is now fairly inaugurated. The amount of money invested in this city next year will reach many thousands

A POPULAR PROJECT.

The People Unanimously In Favor of the Park Plan.

This is rather tough weather in which to talk of the beauties and comforts of a sylvan retreat 'neath the umbrageous trees of the peoples park that is to be. But the snowy landscape and wintry blasts can easily be made to disappear, with the aid of a good imagination, and the almanac tells us that hustle as we may, we will all be longing eagerly for the cool comforts of a park long before we can possibly provide the park. Therefore it is that The Review intends to keep the matter before the people till the people get a park. It is easier to talk about a park when the sun is shining and the birds are singing, but Time waits not upon the father, and neither can we, if we expect to accomplish anything

Do we want a park? 'Of course we do," said a Wabash engineer yesterday There isn't much question about that And there isn't any doubt but that the choice of a great majority of the people would fall upon the fair grounds. Those magnificent trees those natural springs of pure water cannot be found elsewhere. Then too it is convenient of access, and can be improved with less expense than any other site I have heard a great deal of talk on the subject in the last few days and everybody agrees on these points The main question seems to be will the county take a reasonable price for the grounds If they will, you can regard the matter as settled for in five days you could get up a petition with three fourths of the voters in the city on it, asking the council to buy the park on the plan proposed by The Review, and the council, I think, are willing to pay some respect to the people's wishes by this time. You go ahead and work on the supervisors If they will do the fair thing the park plan will surely go

Some people are very hard of understanding or perhaps they don't investigate thoroughly but take too much for granted Such a person dropped in to the sanctum Friday evening and was asked what he thought of the park plan 'Oh, it will never go, he said, 'it would be a good thing for the Short Line, but the council could never afford to go into a scheme for a public park, no matter what extraordinary inducements were offered, and then guarantee a monopoly for 10 years to a street car line

'Did you say you had read the proposition as printed in The Review?'

'Why certainly I read it That's what it said And the fellow actually believed it He was asked to read it over again and when he saw that there was no monopoly proposed, but that any street car line could come in and on equal terms he was as surprised as could be and jumping up, exclaimed That's fair enough surely I didn't see it that way before The plan is a good one Go ahead with it

The Review is glad to know that its youthful contemporary, The Despatch has declared in favor of a park, and will join the triumphal march of progress We extend the right hand of fellowship

'The Short Line has aroused Decatur from its lethargy and of all our big booms can be traced to [illegible] said a real estate agent, 'but of all that it has accomplished directly and indirectly nothing will equal in permanent value this proposed park Keep up the agitation The people will [illegible] you

Said [illegible] Our factory booms our low freight boom our Union depot boom are all immense evidences of progress but nothing would in my mind add to the beauty of our city or would more greatly enhance its reputation abroad as a desirable place to live, than a magnificent public park I regard the plan as fair and in every way profitable Certainly the taxpayers could ask nothing better You are already arousing great interest in the subject I hope and believe you will be able to carry it through

'Am I in favor of your park plan Mark me down yes' said a merchant 'The excursions from neighboring towns that it would attract would bring thousands of dollars to Decatur every summer to say nothing of the comfort our own citizens could take in it

The Way it Happened

Snow fell at intervals all day yesterday until late in the evening when the weather clerk evidently tiring of the monotony of the occasion, commenced sending rain Mercury took a drop also and the falling rain froze to the pavements, making them as slippery as glass Pedestrians had all they could do to keep the backs of their heads off of the bricks, and some of them sat down in so sudden and unceremonious a manner as to suggest long and persistent practice One portly gentleman slipped at the corner of Main and Prairie streets and fell on the parquet of his stomach His groans were heartbreaking, and his remarks were enough to raise the hat off of your head, so sulphurous and breezy were they. The agitation for the abrogation of the bustle which some smart Alexanders sprung on a suffering public, did not succeed entirely in its nefarious purpose and it was well for the comfort, nay, even for the anatomy, of a lady gliding along Water street that it did not succeed She was looking downward when she suddenly went down herself where her looks had been When she got settled, which was instantaneously she was looking upwards, and her bustle was no longer a thing of beauty with perfect symmetry, but was like the Short Line's armatures in the new motors, longitudinal It saved her lots of pain however, and she will not have to take her meals standing as she most probably would have had to do were it not for the bustle Therefore beautiful, bulging pain preventing bustle, all hail'

It was all very funny to see others doing the McGinty act, but when your own turn came, all the joy and fun faded out in your heart, and the only thing you wanted on earth was to get at the person laughing or even smiling at you There is cause for thankfulness however, that the accident column is not filled with much more serious mishaps than the mere falling down of persons as it was really dangerous to navigate the streets after nightfall

They bring us hope and joy and dread—
These hitches, matches and dispatches
—Chicago Herald

An Apt Characterization.

'Yes, said Brown one branch of my family tree consisted almost exclusively of milkmen for six generations '

"Ah yes" responded the Inveterate Punster 'sort of pump kin vine '—Munsey's Weekly

The Lambkins

I love to see the little lambs at play
In summer on the flowery verdant leas,
But on a wild and wintry stormy day
I love the little lambs served up with peas
Boston Courier

Her Reason

George—Kate will you be a sister to me?
Kate—No George
'Why won't you?'
'George I will be a wife to you but I will never consent to be a sister to you —Time

Sad but True.

Alas a lass is sometimes false
For false a maid is mad
Her waist is but a barren waste
Though stayed she is not staid
Judge

Sunken Treasure

'What you been doing since I saw you last?"
'Been falling in love '
'Ah! Get in very deep?
(Sadly) Two hundred dollars '—Time

Instinct

We swim dancing the lancers
Ah well I knew she's false
For while I got the lancers
My rival gets the waltz
—New York Sun
